mpv Keyboard media player

CONCEPTS

mpv has almost no visible UI: everything is a key. Hover the window to see the on-screen controller, or press ? for the list of bindings.

Command line options map 1:1 to mpv.conf lines (--fs becomes fs). Command line beats config, config beats built-in defaults.

PLAYBACK

Space / p
Pause / resume

Left / Right
Seek back / forward 5 s

Up / Down
Seek forward / back 1 min

q
Quit

Q
Quit and remember position

Shift + Left / Shift + Right
Seek 1 s, exact

SPEED AND LOOP

[/ **]
Speed down / up 10%

BackSpace
Reset speed to normal

l
Set A-B loop points

`mpv --loop=inf <file>`
Loop forever

AUDIO AND VOLUME

9 / 0
Volume down / up

m
Mute

AUDIO AND VOLUME (cont.)

#
Cycle audio tracks

SUBTITLES

j / J
Cycle subtitle track forward / back

v
Subtitles on / off

z / Z
Subtitle delay -/+ 0.1 s

G / F
Subtitle size +/- 10%

VIDEO AND WINDOW

f
Toggle fullscreen

PLAYLIST

> / Enter
Next file in playlist

<
Previous file in playlist

INFO AND SCREENSHOTS

s
Screenshot with subtitles

COMMAND LINE

`mpv <file or URL>`
Play a file or stream

`mpv --start=<time>`
Start at a time

CONFIGURATION

`~/.config/mpv/mpv.conf`
Options, one per line

`~/.config/mpv/input.conf`
Your key bindings